Master Bibliography for Circuits of Salt

Prepared 26 October 2026. Author–date style; source titles retain their published spelling.

This register contains 117 entries assembled from the repository's source files, the project's paper and proposal reference lists, source leads in Bibliography.pdf, and earlier conversation material preserved in THESIS_CONTEXT.md. It also includes works needed to identify the theorists discussed in Chapter 1. Bibliographic presence, direct consultation and support for a particular claim are different things; the notes distinguish them.

Every top-level PDF in Books/, References/ and Bibliography/ is accounted for. The source inventory also records the corpus-only salt-industry text and separately lists generated figures. References within every monograph are not recursively treated as the researcher's reading. The related thesis's 160 references and the local course syllabus's reading list are supplied separately as unverified secondary leads.

This is a master research bibliography, not a declaration that every item has been read or belongs in Chapter 1. The chapter has a shorter reference list containing only its 14 cited works. No source count here should replace the computational corpus count.

Verification descriptions refer to what was checked: title pages, a catalogue, a publisher record, or a relevant passage. A verified bibliographic record does not establish that every historical assertion is supported. Entries marked verification required remain incomplete. No original archival consultation, publication acceptance or repository deposit is inferred from a working manuscript.

Coverage of earlier chats is limited to this conversation and the saved project records available here. Unseen chat history cannot be searched. For online records consulted in this pass, access date: 26 October 2026.

Theory (11)

Latour2005

Latour, B. (2005) Reassembling the Social: An Introduction to Actor-Network-Theory. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Relevance and edition notes: Actor–Network Theory; belongs mainly to methodology. Present in the proposal and paper bibliographies; no need to insert it into Chapter 1 merely to increase citation coverage.

Verification: Imported project reference; publisher link recorded. Provenance: Project references or recorded conversation. Chapter 1: not cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Mauss2002

Mauss, M. (2002) The Gift: The Form and Reason for Exchange in Archaic Societies. Translated by W. D. Halls; foreword by Mary Douglas. London: Routledge. Originally published in French in 1925; Halls translation first published in 1990.

Relevance and edition notes: Gift obligations, potlatch and total social facts. The project lists a 2001 Routledge edition; the checked preview states Routledge Classics 2002, while the publisher catalogue gives an October 2001 release. The chapter consistently uses the 2002 edition designation. Exact quotation pages must be matched to the researcher's copy.

Verification: Record checked. Provenance: Thesis proposal; conference manuscripts; Chapter 1; publisher preview and catalogue. Chapter 1: cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Parthasarathi2001

Relevance and edition notes: Colonial transformation of labour relations in South India. The publisher's introduction, pp. 1–10, was checked. This supports a bounded South Indian argument, not a universal chronology of all Himalayan markets.

Verification: Publisher record and introduction checked. Provenance: Chapter 1 review and theoretical discussion. Chapter 1: cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Parthasarathi2011

Parthasarathi, P. (2011) Why Europe Grew Rich and Asia Did Not: Global Economic Divergence, 1600–1850. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. doi: 10.1017/CBO9780511993398.

Relevance and edition notes: Identifiable work for the chapter's reference to global comparisons and explanations of European divergence. Publisher record checked; full argument and detailed page locators remain to be checked.

Verification: Record checked. Provenance: Chapter 1 discussion; source identification during this bibliography pass. Chapter 1: cited.

Relevance and edition notes: Formal and substantive meanings and institutional integration. The chapter's householding discussion should also refer to The Great Transformation; the two texts should not be treated as interchangeable.

Verification: Reference and relevant reproduced passage checked. Provenance: Paper references; thesis proposal; Chapter 1. Chapter 1: cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Polanyi2001

Polanyi, K. (2001 [1944]) The Great Transformation: The Political and Economic Origins of Our Time. Foreword by Joseph E. Stiglitz; introduction by Fred Block. Boston, MA: Beacon Press.

Scott1976

Scott, J. C. (1976) The Moral Economy of the Peasant: Rebellion and Subsistence in Southeast Asia. New Haven, CT: Yale University Press.

Relevance and edition notes: Subsistence, risk and reciprocal expectations. JSTOR records copyright 1976 and chapter 1 at pp. 13–34; the current Yale paperback page gives a 1977 release. Use 1976 for the work cited in this project, not the website's later format date.

Verification: Record checked. Provenance: Paper references; thesis proposal; Chapter 1; Yale/JSTOR records. Chapter 1: cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Scott1998

Scott, J. C. (1998) Seeing Like a State: How Certain Schemes to Improve the Human Condition Have Failed. New Haven, CT: Yale University Press.

Relevance and edition notes: State legibility and administrative simplification; relevant principally to later historical/methodological discussion. Earlier project references use 1999, the paperback date; distinguish it from the original 1998 publication.

Verification: Edition distinction recorded; original imprint to match to copy. Provenance: Project references or recorded conversation. Chapter 1: not cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Scott2009

Scott, J. C. (2009) The Art of Not Being Governed: An Anarchist History of Upland Southeast Asia. New Haven, CT: Yale University Press.

Relevance and edition notes: Comparative upland-state framework, listed in the local course syllabus. Chapter 6½, 'Orality, writing, and texts', pp. 220–237, is a specific assigned reading. It does not itself establish Himalayan salt institutions.

Verification: Syllabus reference; full work not checked. Provenance: Centre-and-Periphery-in-Asian-History.pdf, pp. 2–3. Chapter 1: not cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Thompson1963

Thompson, E. P. (1963) The Making of the English Working Class. London: Victor Gollancz.

Verification: Publisher record and relevant original article pages checked. Provenance: Chapter 1 review; Chapter 1 moral-economy discussion. Chapter 1: cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Relevance and edition notes: Connects circulation, markets and border formation through the Lavi fair and Shimla; especially pp. 173–174. Relevant existing scholarship, so the thesis should not claim that political commodity circuits have never been studied. Local scan is supplemented by the existing corpus OCR.

Verification: Local title/copyright, OCR and publisher record checked. Provenance: Local repository. Chapter 1: not cited.

Furer1975

Fürer-Haimendorf, C. von (1975) Himalayan Traders: Life in Highland Nepal. London: John Murray.

Relevance and edition notes: Official catalogue gives vol. V, 1964 and xi + 437 pages, whereas the Himachal series is elsewhere vol. XX. This inconsistency is retained explicitly. Earlier proposed Lavi pp. 189–192 require checking in the original.

Verification: Official catalogue checked; conflicting volume metadata unresolved. Provenance: Earlier conversation recorded in THESIS_CONTEXT.md. Chapter 1: not cited.

Source / catalogue: Open record.

Relevance and edition notes: Official catalogue confirms 1965 and xii + 119 pages. The metadata renders the name as ‘Singh, Ram Chandra, Pal’; corporate authorship is used provisionally to avoid assigning a malformed personal name. Earlier notes identify relevant printed pp. 113–114; those specific passages were not rechecked in this pass.

Verification: Official catalogue checked; title-page responsibility pending. Provenance: Earlier conversation recorded in THESIS_CONTEXT.md. Chapter 1: not cited.
